Chris, I was heartbroken when I heard the news. Thank you for the community you had built. I wish you were here to see what I've been doing with what I learned from you. I'm now passing on this knowledge and you will always be remembered.

“ Chris was a very compassionate mentor who put his students above himself every day. The world is a lesser place without him and he will truly be missed. Rest in peace brother. I hate I never got a chance to meet you in person.

“ Through his ways, his encouragement, and his dedication, he made me feel safe even when everything seemed to fall apart. He helped me see things from a better perspective, even beyond the crypto world. His words of encouragement could be applied to everyday life, and over time, he became like a friend. That's why his loss feels so profound today.

It was a pleasure and a privilege to be able to "know" him, even just in this way. His wisdom, kindness, and authenticity shone through, even across the digital divide. His legacy will live on in the countless lives he inspired and the lessons he taught us—not just about markets, but about life itself.

Chris, rest in peace, my friend. Your light touched so many of us, and though you may be gone, your impact remains. One day, we'll meet on the other side, and until then, your memory will continue to guide and inspire us.

*My deepest condolences to Chris's family and friends.
Our hearts and thoughts are with you.

“ I'm so grateful to have crossed paths with Chris, even though it was online, his drive and determination to help others be successful was honorable and a testament to the person he was. What a great mentor, my brother and I have learned so much from you and for that we are forever thankful.

*The world would be a better place with more people like Chris.
Going to miss your funny quirks and one-liners.*

*Condolences to his close friends and family
Rest in peace mate*

“ I'm at a loss of words...
May you rest in peace and may god remember all the good you've done
Nobody was perfect but your pros outweighed the cons. Rest in peace dear brother. I thank you for all the good you've done in the brief time u spent on earth.
