Craig Gerard DiMaggio

October 29, 1958 – March 26, 2024

Craig Gerard DiMaggio of Metairie, Louisiana was born on October 29, 1958 and passed away peacefully at his home in Atmore, Alabama.

He is survived by his devoted wife Clardine DiMaggio, two sons Joshua (Katherine) and Justin Hansen (Luke) and granddaughter Emma G. Merritt. Craig was preceded in death by his devoted mother Florence M. DiMaggio, father Leo R. DiMaggio and aunts and uncles.

He worked for Franklin Southland Printing as a printer for 14 years, and then MPress in New Orleans as a printer for 15 years. He attended St. Benilde School as part of the SBS 1972 first graduating class in Metairie, Louisiana. He also attended art school. He loved old movies with Boris Karloff, and he also loved Godzilla movies. The Phantom of the Opera was his favorite movie. He loved Monster Magazine as well as building monster models. He loved listening to the Beatles and King Crimson. He loved to cook, go fishing, collect maps from all over the world, hang out with his friends and go to live music concerts.

He wishes to acknowledge his cousin, Renee McGann, for her kindness and help when it was needed the most. He also wishes to acknowledge his lifelong friends Larry Braud and Billy Messina for always being there for him and for always taking the time to keep him company.

Funeral mass and Celebration of life to be announced at a later date.

“ Do Not Weep For Me
Do not weep for me for I have not gone.
I am the wind that shakes the mighty Oak.
I am the gentle rain that falls upon your face.
I am the spring flower that pushes through the dark earth.
I am the chuckling laughter of the mountain stream.

Do not weep for me for I have not gone.
I am the memory that dwells in the heart of those that knew me.
I am the shadow that dances on the edge of your vision.
I am the wild goose that flies south at Autumns call and I shall return at Summer rising.
I am the stag on the wild hills way.
I am just around the corner.

Therefore, the wise weep not.
But rejoice at the transformation of my Being.
