“ David will always be Alan to me. When the dreadful news of his illness came in I described him, as a man and a friend, to various people locally where I live. One of them hit the nail on the head. He said "If in any situation you needed a person by your side it would be your friend Alan" ”

I recall Alan & Rachael collecting my our long-term friend and business partner at Alicante Airport. My brothers and I owned a small villa and we were going there to do some off-season maintenance. Alan missed the exit on the first roundabout and as we wheeled around it he said " I thought you'd like to see the other side of the roundabout".

Whilst in Spain we admired the ornamental metal window guards on most villas -except for ours. They were expensive so Alan offered to make one, in England. So we went back to Spain & whilst most passengers at Gatwick had cases, golf clubs etc. Peggy, Rachael, Alan and me each had 25% of a very heavy window guard -admired by many as they wheeled around the carousels.

Alan had a great sense of humour and a quick wit. To say you were never ever bored in the company of one person is a strong statement -for me that person was Alan.

I'll never forget you Alan!
