“ Mr. Dennis... my mother has lived next door to you since I was in the 9th grade. I'm 37 now. You have watched each one of my children grow up. I will never forget the day when you asked me “ How do you do it ? How do you take care of 4 children by yourself”. I said “ I don't even know sometimes . It's hard. But I have to keep going”. You smiled and said “ you're stronger than me. Keep going . You're doing a good job and get a bigger car !!” I laughed so hard . You just don't know how powerful those words were “you”re doing a good job”. You actually paid attention to how hard I worked. You saw me load everybody in the car in the morning and then unload in the afternoon. I have only heard the words “good job “ twice in my life : when I graduated high school and when I graduated college. Those words meant everything . Thank you. You and Mrs. Dawn were such wonderful neighbors. You always checked on my mom and helped her if she needed help. You always smiled and talked to my children . They loved “Mr. Dennis”. The neighborhood is not the same without you. I can't wait to close on my house at the end of this month and move. I grieve in silence . If I've learned one thing it's this, “life is truly short and so precious. People are truly here one day and gone the next “ . Watch over us Mr. Dennis. We truly miss you . Your passing has affected each of us.. especially my mother . Until we meet again.

P. S If you see me wearing an Alabama shirt it's only because I'm wearing it in remembrance of you .. :) R.I.P Mr. Dennis.

Love : Ashley Jackson. Kaiden , Jordyn , Kaleb Amayah and Gloria Jackson .
