

James Williams

May 18, 2019

James Walker Williams was a solid, admirable man who was dearly loved and cherished by his family and friends. Those who knew James held him in high regard as a hard, southern gentleman with an entertaining personality. James never halted his flow of jokes. Although born into a family of poverty and hardships, this did not hold him down. His perseverance and persistence helped shape the character of this incredibly strong man.

He was born on the 27th of October, 1935 in a log cabin at Red Level, AL to Maebell Ammons Williams and Leonard Ernest Williams. He went to school at Elberta, AL and Pensacola, FL. James dropped out of school to help support his mother and family. His sister knew he needed an education so she moved him to West Virginia to live with her. He graduated high school from Wheeling West Virginia. Upon graduation, He went into the Air Force and served 4 years. He married the love of his life Sandra Ann Williams July 18, 1959. They shared 60 inspiring years building a home and raising their son James Allan Williams together. During this time, James enjoyed the little things in life like fishing, hunting, feeding and watching the birds with his grandkids, and taking vacations with Sandy to explore new places. While going on these memorable vacations, James never forgot his fishing pole. When traveling to Alaska, he caught halibut, in Costa Rica he caught peacock bass, and in the Grand Canyon he caught trout, soaking up the sweet moments and eating some good food. Throughout his life James worked at various jobs after leaving the service, until he went to work for Coca Cola Bottling Co. in Robertsdale, Al.

James was in charge of shipping and receiving and had a successful 30 years there. In December 2004 James was diagnosed with spine cancer and lung cancer later in 2012. James continued to fight cancer until the day of his passing on May 18, 2019 surrounded by the outstanding love of his family. James was a strong willed man who fought and never gave up his mind or sense of humor. He rallied so many times after we were told he'd be gone by morning that it was hard to believe he was gone.

He is survived by his wife, Sandra Ann Williams, son James Allan Williams, wife of his son, Constance Jean Williams, triplet grandchildren, Jarad Allan Williams, Nathan Allan Williams, Rachael Madayln Williams. Also he is survived by his brother, Earl Walter Williams.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Maebell A. Williams and Leonard E. Williams, two sisters, Ernestine W. Shapins and Ermanell W. Jenson, a son W. Williams, and a daughter Tina Marie Williams.

He was a living legend who was loved so greatly and will be missed everyday. He is home, with God and his savior, Jesus Christ, no longer fighting. "Ditto."

Dad, I am the man I am because of you. I am thankful for all the time we spent together. You didn't have much to work with but you took a piece of coal and rubbed it so hard that it actually shines in a couple of spots. Thanks dad. I love you, your son, Allan.

You have always been a strong loving and kind-hearted man. Many times you showed us just how deep your love for your family ran. you will be greatly missed. Love, Connie.

Pawpaw was a true fighter. Someone who could beat anyone at arm wrestling. He taught me never to give up. I will always remember how much you loved your birds and I am thankful for the time we took care of them, your grandson, Jarad.

Heaven received an a legend and I lost my buddy. James Walker Williams was the strongest man I have every known. He taught me the hard universal principles of what it means to be a man. The years and years of cancer was a hard fight. I'm going to miss you Pawpaw, your buddy, Nathan.

Words cannot describe the love that I have for PawPaw. The sweet moments we shared together will always be instilled in my mind. He has taught me to never take the small things in life for granted and for that I thank you! I love you with all my heart, Madalyn.

All the fighting, all the loving, gonna miss you so. See you soon. -Love your gal, Sandi.
