“ jay was my father in law and one of my favourite people...i first met him when i took his step daughter to the marine corps ball in 2017... he was excited that i was a yankee and giants fan and upset i didnt know more about rutgers football...i visited him a couple weeks before he passed in bama and we discussed how the yankees werent doing enough in the off season to acquire new talent...i miss Jay so much he was my friend and drinking buddy and he was such an entertainer and a great bbq griller! life will not be the same without him and Julia together as a partnership...and there will be a whole in my heart knoeing that me and Sarahs kid will never get to have met the person that we reference so much in conversagions for the next few decades...i love you...we love you and your grandson Theo loves you so much and were gonna just have to navigate this world without you and its gonna be pretty tough...but were gonna push on through...love you Jay go Yanks!!!

“ Jay was my father in law and was always so warm and welcoming to me from the first time I picked up his step daughter for the marine corps ball in 2017...he was very excited I was a yankee and giants fan and upset I didn't know more about Rutgers football...he was my friend and drinking buddy and even though we didn't always agree politically he was always kind and things were never awkward...I saw him a couple weeks before he passed in the hospital in Alabama and he was excited to have some guy time and we discussed who the Yankees were gonna grab and retain in the offseason...we just had his memorial here in bama and it's weird to be here with his wife Julia and not have him around in the background wishing the tv was louder...I miss Jay and his friendship and am so glad he at least got to meet Theo before he went on to a better place where it's all scarlet and red...I Love you Jay and you will always have a place in my heart
