

Jennifer Marie Polvere

July 22, 2023

I walked along the edge of night.
To catch a glimpse of peace,
A star would fall, my hands reached out.
To only catch a ray of light.

My life was filled with joy and tears.
I tried to hide all of my fears.
Time traveled fast and without pace.
Sometimes I felt so out of place.

The love I felt within my heart.
It kept me going day to day.
To you, my lovies, "love your life."
The darkest hour will slip away.

My friends, you know, you are the best.
I sang, I danced, you laughed me on.
Simple pleasures, fun we had.
So long to you and don't be sad!

Walk upon the beach at night.
And catch a glimpse of peace.

You'll know I'm out here loving you,
My heart so filled with God's own Light.

I love you all and may the Lord give you the strength, courage, love and lots of humor as He gave me to live a long and beautiful life...I'LL BE WITH YOU FOREVER.

Your loving wife, mother, grandmother, and friend for life,

Jennifer, Jenny, Mom

In Loving Memory Of:

Jennifer Marie Polvere

October 30, 1957 – July 22, 2023

Jennifer Marie Polvere of Mobile, Alabama passed away on July 22, 2023 peacefully at home.

She was born on October 30, 1957 in Mobile, Alabama to the late Jack and Rose Crisp of Mobile, Alabama. She is preceded in death by her late husband, Salvatore "Butchie" Polvere.

She is survived by daughter, Ashley Shayne Wooldridge (Chris), son Micah Ryan Horne (Vicki) and daughter Lindsey Nicole English; grandchildren, Alexia, Molly, Blake, Ava and Evan; brothers Mark Crisp (Debbie), Steve Crisp (Teresa) and sister Pat Hendricks (Harvae).

Known as "Skinny Jenny" to so many; she was a loving, energetic woman who loved everyone and most of all LOVED LIFE. She loved Mardi Gras, living at the beach, playing slots at the casinos and was a successful restaurant owner of "Skinnyz Bar and Grille"; where she utilized her creative ability to bring the coastal theme and cuisine to the state of North Carolina.

“ Well, its been another year since I have posted here. Happy Birthday! The memory of you still lives strong. I still miss you just as much. Im trying to handle your affairs but it is still ongoing. Its been very tough! Ava and Evan are back in OB.They are growing so up fast. Evan graduated this year. We got to see him walk and I know he was missing having you, Sal, and Lindz there. I know you know all of this. Please tell Lindsey I love and miss her. Please be with me and help guide me. I feel alone without you guys. All I have left is dad and Ashley, but I never get to see Ashley. Anyways, I love you and will get to see you again one day.

“ Happy birthday mom. It never gets easier with you gone. I miss you so much. The twins are growing up fast. Evan texted me today. Can you believe they will be 18 in 6 months?! I sure wish we could all be together for the upcoming holidays. My holidays and visits back home will never be the same. I still have my dad, but everyone else is gone. I need to stop cuz I get upset every time I start thinking about how you, Sal, Lindsey and Maw-maw are just not there all of a sudden. I love ya'll very much, and please let them know that I think of them all the time. I know Mam-maw and Pap-paw are there too so please let them know I haven't forgot them and will see everyone again one day. Please be with me and help me in spirit. Love, Micah.

“ I was so sorry to hear of Jenny's passing and would like to express my deepest condolences to her family and close friends. I had not seen her since 2005 when she was here for a high school reunion. At that time she was still very much the same fun-loving, youthful girl I remember from high school. I believe she had just opened her restaurant at that time, because I remember a group of us going out to see a band that she had scheduled to be in NC later in the year. Back in the 70s we had some great times as a group going to table dances at Fort Whiting. She was always kind, funny, and so much fun to be around. She always had a great sense of style, and could rock shorts, high heels, and a hat, like nobody else! I remember going to her house the day she brought her daughter home from the hospital. I was with Kelly Tucker and Cyndi Toney; we were all just standing there in awe looking at this beautiful little girl. I'm glad to know that she lived such a full life and realized so many dreams. Rest in peace...

“ My name is Storey Gibson, Im Mark Crisp step daughter. Skinny Jenny has been in my life for a long time and I have a hand full of fun memories with her, but, there is one that stands out the most as to the kind of person she was to me. We had all taken Marks boat over to Robinson Island for a fun day on the water. We had to make several trips as we had more people than the boat could carry. That afternoon, a thunderstorm rolled upon us and Mark needed to get everyone back. Jenny and I volunteered to stay while Mark and my mom took all the others back. We had our 2 chairs and our towels and we were the only ones on the island. The lightning was the type where the weather man tells you to stay in doors and the rain was that stinging rain that Forest Gump always talked about. Lol! We didn't have a care in the world that day, Jenny and I had the best time dancing in the rain and feeling like we were free on a deserted Island, well at that moment in time we were. Haha! We didn't have any music so we sang our own songs!
That's how I knew Jenny and who she was with me, she loved life, and she lived it to the fullest!
She will be dearly missed ,but cherished in our hearts. Her memories will Live forever! We love you Skinny Jenny!
