“ *John. I can't believe you are gone! What a shock!
I know I was a pest at times, wanting you to work on my computer but, you was a Computer Geek!
Of course, we met online. You only lived 9 miles from me. After several times talking we decided to meet. I came to your house and you opened the door, you had a long beard. (I hate beards). That was the first time I drank Captain Morgan. We talked about anything and everything! I never met your girls but, you always talked about them and showed me pictures.
I was sad when you told me that you were retiring and moving to Alabama. Being the good son you was, you wanted to take care of your Mom. I commend you for that.
I came and saw you in 2017, not once but twice. The first time I was alone then in July I brought my 2 granddaughters to meet you and see the beach. You was a great host and I was planning on coming this summer also. 😞
We exchanged lots of recipes. You was a great cook! Your barbecue ribs was the best EVER!!
RIP John and fly high! 💕📷💕*

“ John, Remembering the crazy times we had. How you talked me into cutting your hair a few times, playing poker, checking out your computer set ups. You remembered me from when I worked for the Santa Fe in 1978...I couldn't remember a lot of that time. What they say is true...If you want to see someone, do it now because tomorrow is never promised. Wish I had come down last winter. Will miss you. Dawn
