

Joseph A Carovinci

September 19, 1952 - January 5, 2020

Private Memorial Service

Tribute Wall

“ Joe is my Grandfather. My Poppy. He had a sense of humor like none I'd ever met, although my mother, aunts uncles and myself and little sister all share a piece of it. If it weren't for him none of us would be here. He had a big heart, an Italian temper and a crooked pinky toe that a dog bit. He wasn't concerned with flashy things. He was a man of wit, logic and wisdom. He would wear work shirts with holes in them as if it were louis vuitton. My aunt Sophia and I once ripped his pulled his shirt apart by one of the holes and he sat there laughing. Pop was a good man. A strong man, and a loving Father and Grandfather. Thanks for the memmories Pop. -Josh

Clyde Pharaoh - August 10, 2025 at 01:03 AM