

Kimberly McClarren

January 23, 2024

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ I've thought about you SOOOOOOO many times over the years. I have so many fond memories of our childhood. You were my first best friend in my new neighborhood. It snowed, and we were both outside playing in our yards. You asked me to come play with you, and we never stopped playing. I'm still in that neighborhood and have never made another friend there. I still look down the hill at your house and wonder if the new residents know your dog is buried in the backyard. I still tell people about our time at City Fest. "The sign said don't walk, so we ran!" I remember having a crush on your brother and being embarrassed when I burped in front of him once. I remember us being on the phone and you telling me you needed to call me back so you could look for the phone...that you were on! I remember waiting for your mom to get home from Schlotzsky's because she would bring us pizzas. I always hated that we grew apart when you moved, and I hate now that I'm finding out about your fate this way. I've missed you over the years and will continue to miss you.

Tiffany Hargrove - January 06 at 04:26 AM