“ I will miss my bestie 20 yrs of sharing many ups and downs, We didn't always agree but when called, messaged, or visited It was as we never were apart. Looking through the photos of the past 20 my eyes blurred from the tears shed

Bestie we were supposed to laugh with the grandkids as we shared the many photos with them of the things their parents did growing up. I pray I will be able to keep some type of contact with them and for them to know MiMi will love them as her own

Just remembering so much that I have cried laughed became angry but I know everything happens in GOD's time and we have to find comfort in knowing his plan is far better than ours

You truly knew me and I laugh now that you learned just with a look to prepare to be shocked at all my many thoughts that would blurt out my mouth Your cheeks would become red and laughter would occur I'm going to miss your laugh You will be greatly missed love you bestie rest now until I see you again

Will post more pics over time so others can see them too
