“ I just now saw the obit that Capt. Lee had passed. We became friends when I wrote a story about him many years ago and wanted to take a "singing cop" type angle with it. I said it would get him more gigs, but he insisted on keeping that separate. I loved that he would play sometimes the sax and the guitar on the same song. We were also both part of a fundraising calendar for the zoo that another late friend, Sunny David, put together in the late '90's. My condolences to Lee's family. He was a super guy whom I had much personal and professional respect for. RIP Capt. Lee.
