“ Whenever I talked with Margaret, we always discussed where we were reading in the Bible, her favorite book of all time. She loved the Lord and read through the Bible a couple times each yr, reading 10 pages per day. She was an avid reader and knew many other topics well. She was a dear friend throughout the years and though I miss her, I am thrilled that she is already enjoying eternity with our precious Jesus. It will be exciting to join her when the Lord calls me home. In the meantime, she would want all of us to read the Bible daily and trust in Him, as she did.
