

Maurine T Ellison Miller

October 17, 2022

Maurine T. Ellison Miller, born April 14, 1936, to Maurice and Sarah Rose Crowell in Jefferson County, Alabama, was called home to heaven on October 17, 2022, at the age of 86.

She had a smile that could light up a room and a heart full of love and compassion. She found her life's calling caring for others as a RN at South Baldwin Hospital and at the University of Alabama-Birmingham Medical Center. Once she retired from nursing, she continued her selfless dedication to others by becoming a private sitter and by caring for her family, friends, and neighbors. Throughout her life she devoted herself to Christ and the people around her. Her favorite book was the Bible through which she encouraged others to live a life of love, forgiveness and understanding. She enjoyed being outdoors and picking fruit from the many trees she planted around her home and could often be seen spending a quiet afternoon watching old westerns with her grandchildren. She was also very artistic and loved painting the beauty of God's creations. Her influence will forever remain in the lives of all that knew her.

She was preceded in death by her high school sweetheart & first love Braxton Bragg Ellison Sr, her second love Harold Allen Miller, her parents Maurice & Sarah Rose Crowell, sister Joanne Fawcett, grandson Ronald Patrick Morgan, and great grandchildren Matthew Logan & Lilly Katherine Barnhill.

Her legacy is survived by brother James Crowell (Linda), Children Jeralon E. Barnhill (Robert), Braxton B. Ellison JR., Sarah Deanne Richey, Tom W.

“ Mrs Ellison as I knew her was a wonderful mother. She was my best friends Mom. Jeri and I had the best time sitting and talking with her when I was at their home to visit Jeri. “ I had a seizure during labor with my daughter. When they couldn't pull me out of it my mama called her sister - Aunt Maurine - to come to save me. Her smiling, shining eyes behind her nurses mask were the first things I saw when I woke up. She said "It's about time you decided to come around and help!" A remarkable woman, mama, sister, nurse, and Aunt. She has always been my example for kindness, compassion, and loyalty. She taught me how to throw away pain, and anger. Her goodness lives in all of us.
