“ Mr.Merl, a sweet little man who lead life filled with love. He showed his family a good life.He kept his promise to his wife and loved her to his end. His face was always a pure joy to see. He could brighten the darkest of days with his sweet words to calm you. He always had a word of wisdom to share and had love for everyone he meet.He stayed to to his up bringing and worried about everyone to the very end that was just the kind of man he was. His heart was just that big. He finally stopped some of his worry on his self and believed on planting a seed in God and letting him have your all and watching and seeing what God will then do.
