“ It has taken me a two years to formulate the strength to write these words. My condolences to the Ciaurro family and to the love of his life his wife Linda. I first met Mike when I was hired as a Special Agent employed by the U.S. Customs Service. Mike took me under his wing and molded me as an agent a father, and on the high seas as a mariner. He was a great person with wrenching faith, pride and integrity. He mentorme in all aspects of being a federal agent from being a straight shooter to writing a reports to interviewing individuals. He did it all I looked up to him as a father failure own how to raise my two sons he showed me the path after I lost my father and mother and how to move forward in life From that point on I am ever grateful I miss your companionship. I miss you with you and comic banter that you constantly express during our conversations in our early days we would battle on the basketball court. We had a side joke that he couldn't jump, but I was much more quicker and on him on the court. I will always miss our conversations even after the job and upon our retirement, I cherish your friendship you will never be forgotten.

Respectfully,

D.J

“ Our hearts are saddened at the passing of our cousin Michael John Ciaurro. His love for and devotion to his wife Linda is an inspiration to all who know him. His son Michael William, of whom Michael was so proud, has inherited these same characteristics as well as his father's courage, strength and commitment. A graduate of the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point NY, Michael served our country in its military and government departments for 27 years. We may have been separated by geography however, we were always united by our hearts. Michael, We will always miss you. Love. Nicky, Vicki, Terri, Marcia & Dana
