“ We had lots of good times together, especially "junken" on Saturday mornings. She could spot a postcard size yard sign going down the road. She was such a wonderful friend for many years.

“ One thing I truly loved about Myrtle was her extreme generosity. I quickly learned that if you complimented her on an item of decor in her home she would try to send it home with you! She had a polka dotted chicken I adored that took her probably four of my visits before I felt comfortable taking it home with me. That chicken has a very prominent place in my kitchen. Which always makes me think of Myrtle and how much I love her!
