“ I love you Nick and miss you so much this was the 2nd picture we ever took together. This was our 1st trip to the beach I'll never forget this day we walked and collected seashells and just sat on beach and listened to music. I remember I wrote my name in the sand and you said hey what about me you ain't alone so I went back and wrote our names together and I asked you is that better and you said yes that's better. This was just one of the many amazing days I got to share with you making memories I am so thankful for all the memories we shared and for all the pictures of random stuff you had me take cause now I have so many pictures of our time together. I'll always love you Nick. Fly high my sweet angel watch over all us. Til I see you again you will always be in my heart.

Me or you one talked to him everyday and if it was me he would always ask where you was and I'd have to take u the phone where he could talk to you and y'all would always team up and hang up on me and pick on me lmao but everytime we went to hang up the phone with Austin y'all both would tell each other y'all loved each other first
