“ I had no idea when I met this wonderful lady when I was 17, that she would forever be the inspiration who I could turn to for the rest of her life. She was the only "MoM" that I knew and the only parent who loved me. The endless amount of times that she sacrificed for myself and my children. She encouraged me, she read and explained Biblical verses to me, she prayed and fervently for the hardships that clobbered my life. The Lord used her as His vessel where she touched the lives of all who knew her.

I saved several of her phone messages so that whenever I want to hear her voice, I will pull up them and cry. There will never be another angel as close to God as she was.

She use to tell me to Rejoice !! So, I will do it now. Rejoice, mama, you waited a long time to be in the arms of your savior. The last time I spoke with her, she told me how anxious she was to be in His arms. Rejoice !!

Loving you until i can rejoice with you, Annette

“ What can I say about our friend Pat that you don't already know, she was & still is an amazing woman along with her kind & gentle husband Ken. They came into our lives in the early 1980's, all they ever showed us was true Love, their Love for God was so unique & genuine, that it just flowed out of them. They would come over every Sunday night for prayer meetings, Ken along with our dad would play the guitar and Pat would sing, what they didn't know was that our family was pretty shy not really letting too many people in, but God knew what He was doing when He sent them to us, we still miss them both very much. When I first met them it was at church Friday night prayer meetings from there it went to Full Gospel meetings, Aglow meetings, & several trips where I got to see that their love for God & others was not fake, it was real. Pat always had positive responses for everything no matter what she was going through, cause she knew the one that could change things. Our mom passed away on Dec. 19th 2016 & for Pat to leave a year later on the same day, I know God is still in control, we miss her & now we will miss Pat too. I will miss hearing her say, Praise the Lord, Cote residence. God is the only one that knows what we all go through & His Peace is what brings comfort. I am sure God said to Pat, " Well done, good & faithful servant". Ken & family, you will always be in our hearts, thank you for being a part of our lives, we will miss Pat, & someday we will be reunited with her again. Love you, Teresina Romero & Family (3786 sumter dr. West Jordan, ut.84084)

P.S. continuation from Teresina / when I said Pat & Ken came to our family it wasn't just our family of ten, they were a part of our extended family on our dad's side, 108 total. They have made a positive impact on all our lives. Pat started sending me a different Christmas ornament & as I knew she wasn't able to anymore, as I was taking down the ornaments off the tree I was looking at them & thinking about her realizing what a treasure she had been sending me all these years. She would never forget & when she said she prayed for us everyday she truly meant it. She was & always will be an awesome example of a true Christian.
