“ Lynn an I shared a friendship that has lasted decades. She invited me to her home 4 years ago to assist her husband in caring for her during her battle with cancer and also to help me with a new start after multiple tragedies within my close family. They opened their home an hearts to me an treated me with a love an respect that knew no bounds and helped me recover from overwhelming loss. So to my dear friend I thank you an want all to know that you did more for me than I ever did for you an will cherish your memory and our friendship forever.
Until we meet again Sista..ill see you on the other side ❤️
